

ABSTRACT

PT. Adhi Citra Mulia is a company that has a business sector in the type of construction services, trading various kinds of goods and services. In supporting good performance, the company has a vision "Handling work appropriately and profitably without ignoring environmental impacts and neglecting occupational safety and health." In order to achieve this vision, it is necessary to have good handling in the preparation of payroll for employees. In the process, it is hoped that there will be no errors in employee payroll. Previously, PT. Adhi Citra Mulia already used the system but only limited to Excel. Therefore, through the design of employee payroll information systems, the payroll recording of employees at PT. Adhi Citra Mulia can organized well. The software used was Php as a programming language and MySQL as the database server. Employee payroll information system is a system provides information to users and owners about employee salary data to pay. It showed accuracy record of the nominal amount of the payroll.

Keywords: Employee Payroll Information System, PT. Adhi Citra Mulia.