

ABSTRACT

School is a place for teaching and learning activities to take place and a place for interaction between teachers and students. The learning system in schools is mostly done face-to-face in the classroom, thus limiting students from accessing learning material and interacting with teachers. E-learning is a method that can be used to solve this problem. Website-based e-learning media. There are three users who can access E-learning, namely admin, teachers, and students. The use of e-learning makes it easier for teachers to provide learning materials and assignments. Students can access the material and assignments given by the teacher more easily and without restrictions on place and time. Overall, the e-learning that has been made can simplify the teaching and learning process and can provide progress to SMAN 2 Sleman.
