Abstract

In this era of increasing trade globalization and increasingly sophisticated technology, as well as intense competition in the world of work, students must prepare themselves before entering the real world of work. In the process of preparing, the authors carry out internship practices at PT. Valbury Asia Futures. The purpose of writing this final project is to explain and to know the procedure of commodity futures trading transactions in foreign exchange (forex).

In commodity futures trading transactions, foreign exchange (forex) has a high risk and return, but customers have the potential to earn profits by studying fundamental analysis and technical analysis. PT. Valbury Asia Futures has a different way of getting customers by following up and getting recommendations from family, relatives and friends, as well as a very easy account creation process using MetaTrader4 and withdrawals using Valbury Fx which can be taken anytime during weekdays. bank.
